TEMPLE AND TEMPLE SQUARE

50 W NORTH TEMPLE, SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84150

The Salt Lake Temple stands as a stunning example of Gothic and Romanesque architectural styles, nestled in the heart of Salt Lake City at Temple Square. While the temple itself is only accessible to members of the Latter-Day Saints Church, the surrounding grounds and visitor centers are open to the public. The serene ambiance, historical significance, and beautiful flower gardens make it a must-visit spot.

NATURAL HISTORY MUSEUM OF UTAH

301 WAKARA WAY, SALT LAKE CITY, UT 84108

Located at the Rio Tinto Center, the Natural History Museum of Utah offers a deep dive into the geological, biological, and cultural history of the region. The museum showcases engaging exhibits and an extensive collection of artifacts. The building itself is an architectural marvel with breathtaking views of the Salt Lake Valley.

A wooden sign for Antelope Island State Park is the central focus of the top image. The sign is dark wood with the words "Antelope Island" in large, bold, dark letters, and "Great Salt Lake State Park" in smaller letters below. To the right of the sign is a large, colorful sculpture of a bison, painted in shades of blue, purple, and green. The background shows a dry, grassy landscape with some buildings and a blue sky with white clouds.
